September 1, 2026

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to recommend Kenneth Pangilinan, who worked as a Computer Science Teacher and Club Coordinator at Pegasus California School from August 19, 2024 to August 23, 2026.

During his two years at Pegasus California School, Kenneth taught AP Computer Science A (AP CSA) and AP Computer Science Principles (AP CSP). He also contributed to the school's academic program through his teaching of American Literature and AP Psychology.

In addition to his teaching responsibilities, Kenneth served as the school's Club Coordinator, where he helped oversee and support student clubs and extracurricular activities. In this role, he worked with students and colleagues to facilitate extracurricular opportunities and encouraged students to pursue their interests and develop their skills outside the classroom.

Kenneth is a knowledgeable and dedicated educator with a strong background in both education and software engineering. His technical expertise enables him to provide students with a rigorous and practical understanding of computer science while making complex concepts accessible and engaging. He approaches lesson planning thoughtfully and works to create structured learning experiences that support students with different levels of ability and experience.

In the classroom, Kenneth demonstrates strong communication and classroom-management skills. He is committed to maintaining a positive learning environment and encourages students to think critically, solve problems independently, and apply their knowledge to authentic situations. His experience teaching advanced academic courses has also given him a strong understanding of rigorous academic standards, assessment, and preparation for university study.

Kenneth has been a professional and dependable member of our faculty. He has worked collaboratively with colleagues, contributed to the wider school community, and demonstrated a genuine commitment to supporting his students' academic and personal development.

Based on his performance and contributions during his employment from August 19, 2024 to August 23, 2026, I am pleased to recommend Kenneth for future teaching opportunities. I am confident that his subject knowledge, teaching experience, leadership in extracurricular activities, international-school experience, and professional background will allow him to make a positive contribution to another school community.

Please feel free to contact me should you require any additional information regarding Kenneth's experience or qualifications.

Sincerely,

Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to provide this letter of reference for Kenneth Pangilinan, who worked at Pegasus California School from August 2024 until August 2026.

During his two years with the school, Ken proved to be a flexible, dependable, and versatile educator. His primary teaching responsibilities included AP Computer Science and AP Psychology, while he also taught English when required. His ability to work successfully across these different subject areas demonstrates both his adaptability and his willingness to support the wider needs of the school.

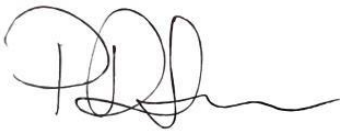

In addition to his teaching responsibilities, Ken served as our Club Coordinator, overseeing the final-period student club programme. He played an important role in organising and supporting the Club Fair, helping students select appropriate clubs, monitoring attendance, and ensuring that clubs operated smoothly throughout the school year. He approached these additional responsibilities with professionalism and a cooperative attitude.

Ken has been popular with both students and colleagues, largely due to his generally positive demeanour, approachable manner, and willingness to work collaboratively. He established good relationships with students and contributed positively to the wider school community.

Ken is seeking a new position following a period of low student enrolment at Pegasus California School and the resulting staffing reductions. His departure is therefore related to the school's changing staffing requirements rather than his professional performance.

I am happy to recommend Ken to prospective employers and believe his versatility, experience, and positive approach would make him a valuable addition to any international school community.

Sincerely,

Paul Robert Johnson
